GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY

PatriotHacks
October 12-14, 2018

About PatriotHacks

PatriotHacks is a multi-disciplinary hackathon hosted by George Mason University that is open to students from colleges and universities across the United States. Student-led teams will work with industry mentors over a weekend to develop their innovative ideas. We expect 200+ student participants, many of whom will have STEM backgrounds.

This October 12-14, we invite you to join the first annual PatriotHacks at Mason.

Why Sponsor?

We need the support of corporate partners to make this event possible. By sponsoring this hackathon, your company will meet a highly entrepreneurial and hard-working group of young adults. Individuals will come from a variety of disciplines, all of whom will be eager to apply their innovative solutions to real world problems.

Our sponsorship packages are tiered; you can choose the best fit for your organization. If you are looking for something different, it would be our pleasure to custom tailor a package matching your company's needs.

$10,000

- All electronic marketing will include "PatriotHack 2018 at George Mason University presented by [company name]"
- Send mentor and company representatives
- Offer welcome remarks and/or closing remarks
- Public recognition on the Mason Marquee on Braddock Road
- Color logo on the stage screen at opening ceremony
- Color logo on t-shirts, posters, and more
- Social media mentions

$5,000

- Send company representatives
- Public recognition on the Mason Marquee on Braddock Road
- Color logo on the stage screen at opening ceremony
- Color logo on t-shirts
- Social media mentions

$2,500

- Send company representatives
- Color logo on the stage screen at opening ceremony
- Color logo on t-shirts
- Social media mentions

$1,000

- Social media mentions
- Send company representatives
- Color logo on the stage screen at opening ceremony